

The Kentucky Career Center, Office for the Blind, partnered with Kentucky School for the Blind Outreach to bring the National Groundhog Job Shadow Day to the Western Kentucky Region on February 2, 2017.

Our students were amazed and thankful to have this wonderful job shadow experience. This experience inspired them to reach for their goals in their perspective chosen careers.

Breanna has chosen computer animation and actually participated in a state-wide judging of an SPTL (Synchronous programs Testing Language)

Jose wants to learn more about civil engineering and he was allowed to get first-hand knowledge of the roads and projects within his county.

Katrina was excited to get hands-on experience in the laboratory of the hospital as she wants to get her degree in this medical field.

Mason's goal to study criminal law has only been enhanced by his experience in the Circuit Court Clerk's office and courtrooms.

Rodrigo inspires to be a Spanish teacher and his job shadow experience only validated his career choice for him.

Our offices joined with our community workplace partners:
Livingston County High School—Regina Durard
Marshall County Hospital— Tiffany Tubbs & Staff
Graves County Judge Executive Jesse Perry
