Review of ‘Employer Section’ in Frequently Asked Questions Document:

Q. What are the benefits of hiring individuals with disabilities?

Answer: Hiring individuals with disabilities can enhance workplace diversity, increase productivity, and improve employee morale. Additionally, you may qualify for tax credits such as the Work Opportunity Tax Credit \(WOTC\). If someone works with an Employment Specialist, that professional can also offer additional support in understanding your business needs and matching the appropriate applicants.

Committee Suggestions:

Enhancing Employer Benefits and Resources:

- Committee focused on improving the document's description of employer benefits related to hiring individuals with disabilities.
- Katie Wolf Whaley suggested adding a resource section listing various benefits beyond the Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC), including other relevant programs.

Addressing Workforce Crisis and Strategic Hiring:

- Committee Chair, Merry Reid Sheffer, suggested to include information on strategic hiring to improve productivity.
- The “JAN program” (Job Accommodation Network) also addressed.

Ensuring Consistent Agency Terminology:

- KYOVR Assistant Director, Kristen Beach, suggested using consistent terms such as, "State Vocational Rehabilitation Agency" or "OVR" throughout the document to avoid confusion.

Utilizing Success Stories for Employer Outreach:

- Rebecca Wilson suggested referencing existing programs like UPS to provide examples for employers.
- Committee Chair, Merry Reid Sheffer proposed adding resources like Kentucky RETAIN webinars and success stories from the Employment Files YouTube channel.
- Melissa Marvel highlighting employer success stories from UPS, TLC and other companies as potential resources for employers.
- Kristen Beach proposed to connect employer-to-employer contact to promote the hiring of people with disabilities.

2025 Annual Report Recommendations:

KYOVR Administrator, Nanci Howard, requested recommendations for the 2025 annual report. Katie Wolf Whaley suggested adding that the Employment First Council participated in and provided resources for the Chamber of Commerce's First Disability Hiring Academy and co-branded webinars with KYRETAIN. Merry Reid Sheffer suggested including the KY RETAIN series.

Project NEON Updates:

KYOVR Administrator, Nanci Howard, provided an update on Project NEON (National Expansion on Employment Opportunities Network). Nanci stated that due to staff changes, she will no longer be the point of contact for Project NEON, and Staff Assistant, Betty Whittaker will be new point of contact for Project NEON.
