Understanding Order of Selection

What Is Order Of Selection?

Under federal law, if Kentucky does not have enough money to provide vocational rehabilitation services to all eligible persons, The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) must set priorities to serve those with the most significant disabilities. If you are found eligible for OVR services, your counselor assigns you a priority category based on the functional limitations that affect your ability to work.
As of July 1, 2016, OVR is only serving category 1.

How does OVR determine my priority category?

A counselor will determine your priority category based on how your ability to work is limited. OVR considers seven major areas of functional limitations in determining your priority category: communication, interpersonal skills, mobility, self-care, self direction, work skills, and work tolerance.

Priority Category

- Category 1 - Eligible individuals who have the most significant disabilities.
- Category 2 - Eligible individuals with significant disabilities who have limitations in three (3) major areas of functional limitations.
- Category 3 - Eligible individuals with significant disabilities who have limitations in two (2) major areas of functional limitations.

- Category 4 - Eligible individuals with significant disabilities who have limitations in one (1) major area of functional limitations.
- Category 5 - Eligible individuals with non-significant disabilities.

Am I automatically eligible if I am on SSI or SSDI?

A person who receives SSI or SSDI may qualify for priority category 1 based on the actual number of functional limitations. In order to receive services you must be interested in working in the competitive workforce and apply at the nearest OVR Office.

If I am on the wait list, can I get services at another OVR office?

No. OVR is required to establish a statewide Order of Selection wait list. Each individual found eligible for services will be placed on the statewide wait list and will be taken off the wait list and served as soon as resources allow, based on the priority category being served and date of application.

Will there be a periodic review of my functional limitations?

Yes. A counselor will review your case once a year. However, if you are on a waitlist, you may request a review of your priority category assignment at any time by giving us evidence that your disability has become more significant.

How will I know about my status on the wait list or what priority category is being served?

OVR will contact you at least once every year regarding your status on the wait list. As soon as a priority category is opened and individuals can be taken off of the wait list, OVR will notify the affected individuals that they may come to their local office if they are still interested in receiving vocational rehabilitation services.
