Do I have to report unemployment benefits on my taxes?

Yes, this is considered taxable income.

What if I received a 1099G for 2021 but I was not on UI in 2021 I requested benefits in December of 2020?

The 1099 will reflect all payments processed out to you for the current tax year 2021. If you received your last payment in January 2021 for weeks claimed in December 2020, it will show on the tax year 2021. Payments are reported the year they are paid out not the year claimed.

I paid all or some of my overpayment unemployment benefits back.

The 1099 reflects all payments processed out to you for the current tax year 2021. There will be a question on your tax form that will ask if you paid any unemployment back in the tax year 2021. The amount you paid back will need to go in this line. It will be deducted from the amount you received while filing your taxes.

What if I need proof that I paid my overpayment unemployment benefits back for my taxes?

A receipt is mailed to you each time money is applied to your overpayment account. The receipt will reflect the amount received by the Office of Unemployment Insurance (OUI) and also states to keep this receipt for tax purposes. If you did not receive or keep this receipt, then please email kyou1099@ky.gov for a copy of your receipt. Be sure to provide:

- Name as it appears on the 1099
- Last four digits of your Social Security Number
- Phone number for a staff member to contact you
- Valid email address for staff member to contact you
- Reason for the request

What if I never filed for benefits or received a payment but I received a 1099G for tax year 2021? I think someone stole my identity.

Send an email to the kyou1099@ky.gov. We will investigate for fraud. Be sure to provide:

- Name as it appears on the 1099
- Last four digits of your Social Security Number
- Phone number for a staff member to contact you
- Valid email address for staff member to contact you
- Reason that the 1099 is incorrect due to potential fraud
- Include a notarized affidavit stating that you never received unemployment benefits and you believe that someone has used your identity to receive benefits in your name (identity theft)

What if I have questions or concerns about my 1099G?

- Name as it appears on the 1099

- Last four digits of your Social Security Number
- Phone number for a staff member to contact you

What if I don't get my corrected 1099G in time from the state to file my taxes?

The Internal Revenue Service is advising taxpayers who receive an incorrect Form 1099-G for unemployment benefits they did not receive to contact the issuing state agency to request a revised Form 1099-G showing they did not receive the benefits. Taxpayers who are unable to obtain a timely, corrected form from states should still file an accurate tax return, reporting only the income they received.
